

Bible Stories: Adam and Eve

Themes: Family and School, Feast Day of St. Matthew, Church, and Self-Respect

Dear Preschool Parents and Guardians,

We gladly welcome everyone to another brilliant School Year in St. Matthew's Preschool!

The first week in school will be the transition period for our preschoolers. This is the get-to-know each other week, where children will have the opportunity to start their social interaction with new friends; and a great time to explore the classroom surroundings. On the second week however, actual classroom activities begins. Children will be familiarized with the routine, as well as the expectations and appropriate behaviors inside and outside the classroom; numbers and letters will also be introduced on this week; succeedingly, lessons about the Feast Day of St. Matthew and The Church will be discussed. We will also learn about the beginning of life on earth, in the bible story, Adam and Eve. Another significant knowledge that we are looking forward to impart on children this month is the value of Self-Respect. Here, children will gain understanding on the practices to develop reverence to oneself pertaining to physical, emotional, social and spiritual well-being.
